Pastor 1922--1950

1866 . . . Saint Patrick's Began . . .

. . . The first steps toward the present Saint Patrick's Central High School were taken in the year following the close of the Civil War. When the educational outlook was darkest, Bishop McGill appealed to the Sisters of Charity at Emmitsburg for Sisters to conduct a school in Saint Patrick's Parish.

The request having been considered favorably, on September 3, 1866, Sister Mary Innocent and four companions opened an academy for girls in a small frame dwelling on 25th Street, near the church. Despite post-war conditions, "During the first year of its existence the school was attended by no less than 150 girls."

Admission of 75 boys in 1867 was a significant step in the life of the school--for from these first beginnings came our future priests.

In 1868 the Academy was permanently established at the northeast corner of 25th and Franklin Streets.

15 Principals in 100 Years

Sister Rosalie
Principal 1868-1914

Sister Mary Geraldine
Principal 1961-1966

For forty-six years, 1868-1914, Sister Rosalie Harrington devoted her talents and abilities to the students of Saint Patrick's Academy.

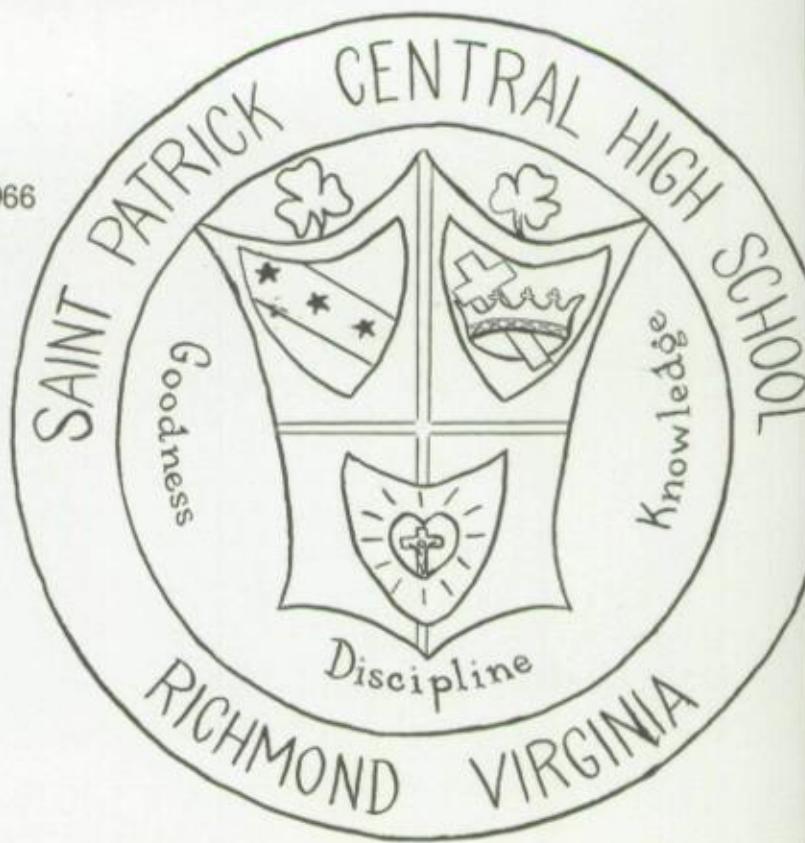

Sister Rosalie was born in Albany, New York; and, after entering the Daughters of Charity, came to Richmond in 1860. During the War between the States she gave her services in the work of nursing wounded soldiers.

The memory of Sister Rosalie and all that she did for the souls entrusted to her is still held in benediction.

ST. PATRICK'S ACADEMY DEDICATED ON TUESDAY

Bishop O'Connell to Officiate Exercises and Make Address.

HANDSOME NEW BUILDING

Bazaar Recently Held Cleared $5,918 for New Structure—Knights of Columbus Present Flag—School Children to Take Part

Right Rev. D. J. O'Connell, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Richmond, will officiate at the dedicatory ceremonies to be held in the handsome new school building in St. Patrick's Parish on Tuesday.

The ceremonise will begin at o'clock in the afternoon, and the new building will be open for inspection to the public. The new school is at Twenty-sixth and Grace Street. It is to be christened St. Patrick's Academy. Catholic clergymen from all parts of the Diocese of Richmond, which embraces the State of Virginia, and delegations from many orders, fraternities and Catholic societies will attend the ceremonies.

Various Catholic societies will be represented by delegations, including the Knights of Columbus, Ancient Order of Hibernians, McGill Catholic Union, Holy Name Society and the Immaculate Conception Society.

The members of the Fourth Degree Assembly of Knights of Columbus will be present and take part in the ceremonies. After the dedication ceremonies, Bishop O'Connell will address those present in the school auditorium after which there will be a musical program and chorus by the school children. A handsome American flag for the school will be presented to St. Patrick's Parish by the Knights of Columbus.

HANDSOME ADDITION

TO SCHOOLS OF CITY

The new school is a handsome building, and modern in every respect, having been designed by Marcellus Wright, a Richmond architect, and erected by James Fox & Son, of this city. It is a splendid addition to the handsome schools of the city, and the pastor, Rev. H. J. McKeeffry, and his people are proud of the new St. Patrick Female Academy.

The program of exercises will be as follows:

Blessing of the school and Sister home.

Address of Bishop O'Connell.
Chorus by the pupils of St. Patrick Academy.

Presentation of the flag, by John Blake.

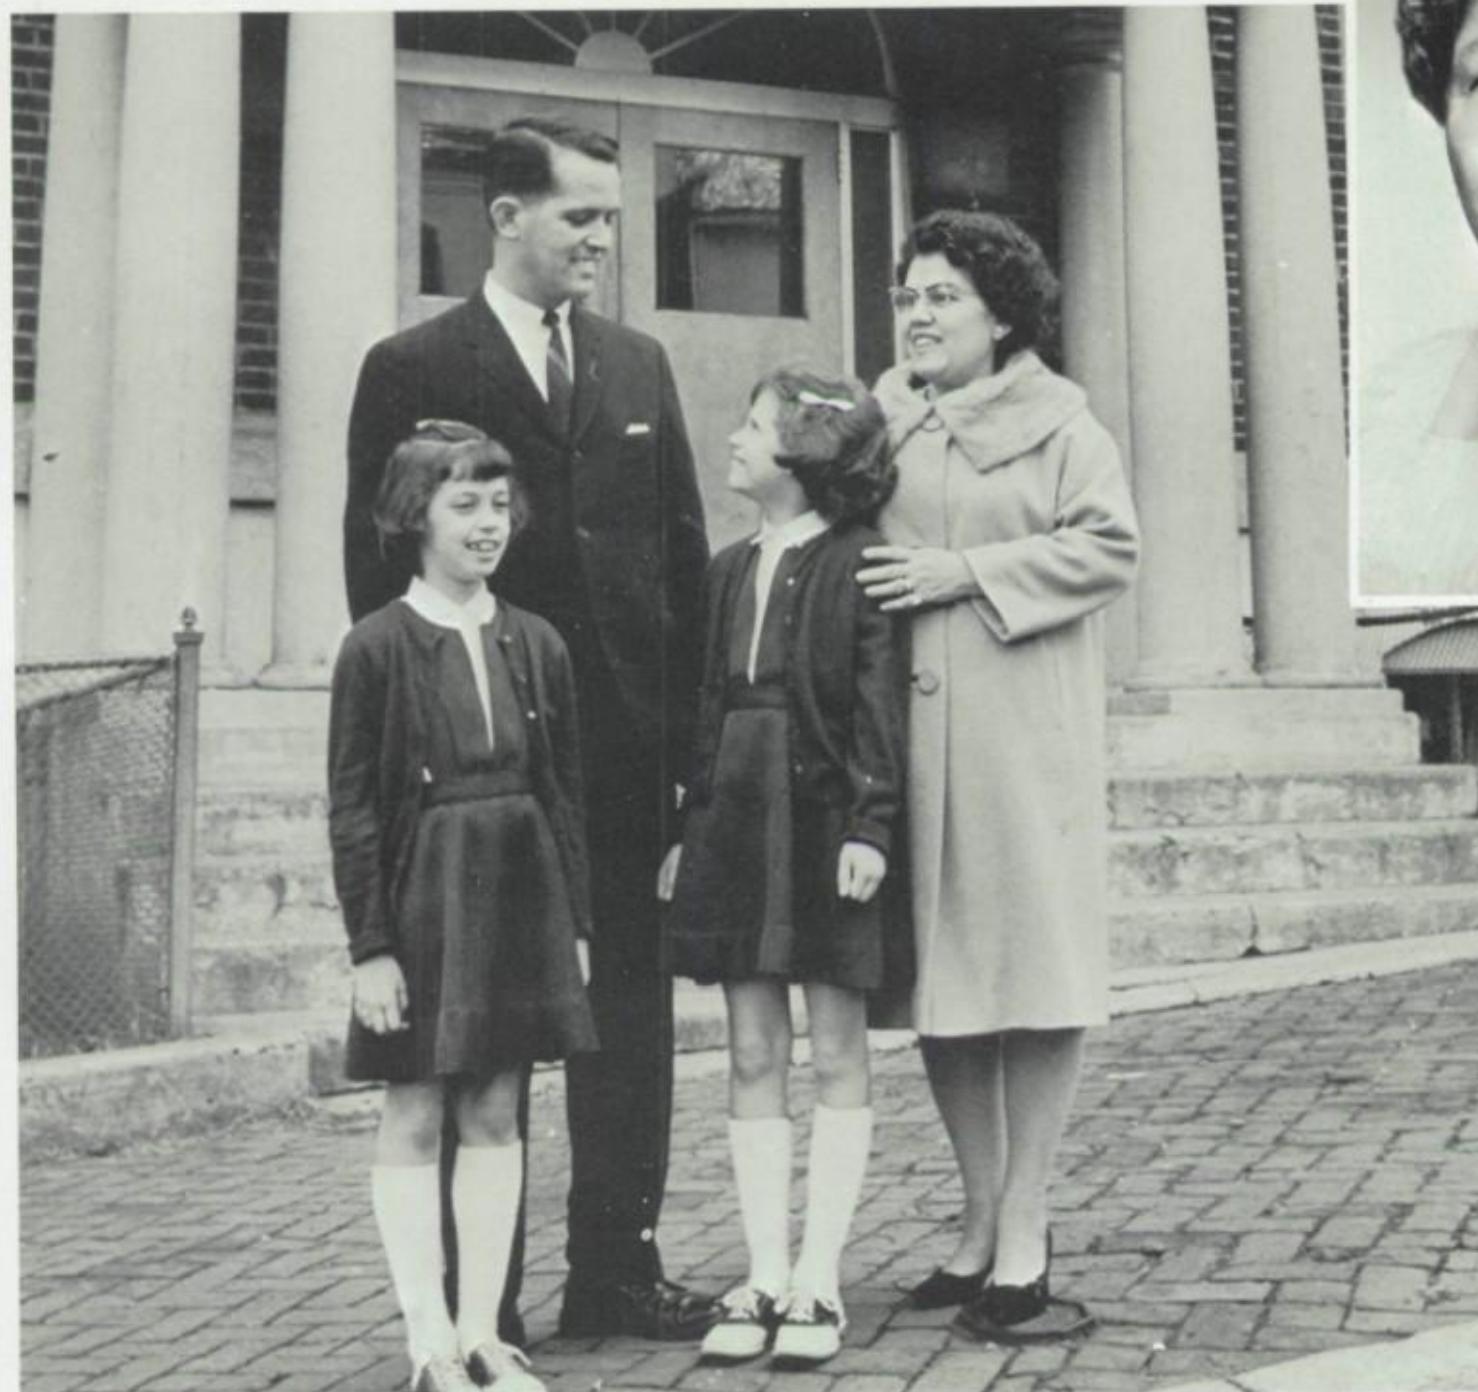

Reception of the flag, by Rev. H. McKeeffry.

Chorus by the pupils of the academy.
Benediction.

A delegation of four members from the following societies will leave Twenty-fifth Street in motor cars at 2:30 o'clock, to escort Bishop O'Connell to the school: The Knights of Columbus, the Hibernians, Ancient Order, the McGill Catholic Union, Holy Name Society, Immaculate Conception Society and the members of the building committee of St. Patrick's Parish.

Father McKeeffry stated yesterday that the bazaar recently held for the benefit of the building fund of the academy had cleared $5,918, and had been most successful in every respect.

Same Richmond Family Has Sent Four Generations to St. Patrick's

Same Richmond Family Has Sent Four Generations to St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's School likes to keep its students in the family.

Since the early 1900's four generations from the same Richmond area family have been taught by the school's Sisters of Charity.

"They didn't have uniforms or yearbooks or school buses when I was there," said Mrs. Columbus B. Donati of Mechanicsville.

Mrs. Donati then was Evelyn Griffin, one of a family of five children all of whom attended the school on Church Hill.

She and her brother and two sisters were only following in their mother's footsteps when they walked 16 blocks each morning to classes during the 1920's.

Their mother, Mrs. Lillian Griffin Sierpina, also walked to class in the old St. Patrick's School at 25th and Franklin streets during the early 1900's.

Mrs. Sierpina, who is 70 years old and has lived in Connecticut for the past 31 years, plans to come to Richmond next fall for St. Patrick's 100th anniversary celebration.

"It'll be a real family celebration for us," Mrs. Donati said. "My brother graduated the same year I did in 1932. He was the only boy in a class of 25 students."

This year's 28 St. Patrick's seniors make up the school's 100th graduating class.

Mrs. Donati's children and her grandchildren have gone to St. Patrick's, too.

"I have two children enrolled now and three have graduated," Mrs. Donati said.

Oldest son, Stanley B. Donati, graduated in 1953. One of his classmates, William Gefert, later was to become his brother-in-law.

Continuing the family loyalty to St. Patrick's, Donati has enrolled his two daughters in the lower school.

Carolyn Ann, 7, and Donna Marie, 8, are among the first students in the family to wear the school uniform — green jumpers and white blouses.

Their dad, however, did ride a school bus instead of walking.

Four-year-old Keith Stanly also plans to keep St. Patrick's in the family.

"I'm going, too, when I'm big enough," he confided.

However, the children in the Stanley Donati family have a double reason for wanting to go to St. Patrick's.

Their mother, the former Patricia Pezzella, is a graduate of St. Patrick's class of 1954.

CLASS OF 1914: Miss Annie Fleming, Miss Helen Katharine Kelly, Miss Mary Rosalie Bagley, Miss Mary Elizabeth Moore, Miss Annie Patricia McDonough.

Past Meets Present

In keeping with our 100th anniversary theme, we invited Mrs. Mary Landers Goode, assistant editor of the first Patrician, to visit us.

When Mrs. Goode was assistant editor, the Patrician was a monthly newspaper. The first issue appeared in 1926 under the direction of its moderator, Sister Agnes. It continued for several years under many capable leaders until the 1950's. In 1957 the newspaper was discontinued and a yearbook with the same name took its place. The yearbook was published for six years and was then replaced by the present memory book.

Thank You

The staff would like to express their sincere thanks, here, to Sister Geraldine for her outstanding help in producing this memory book. Also, the class of 66 thanks her for the many things she has done for them in their last year at St. Patrick's.

May God bless you!

The present moderator, Sister Geraldine, and editor Joyce Brown meet the past moderator, Sister Agnes and editor Mrs. Mary Landers Goode.

KNEELING AT THE ALTAR: Seniors receive their rings from Fr. O'Brien in the special ring-blessing ceremony in church.

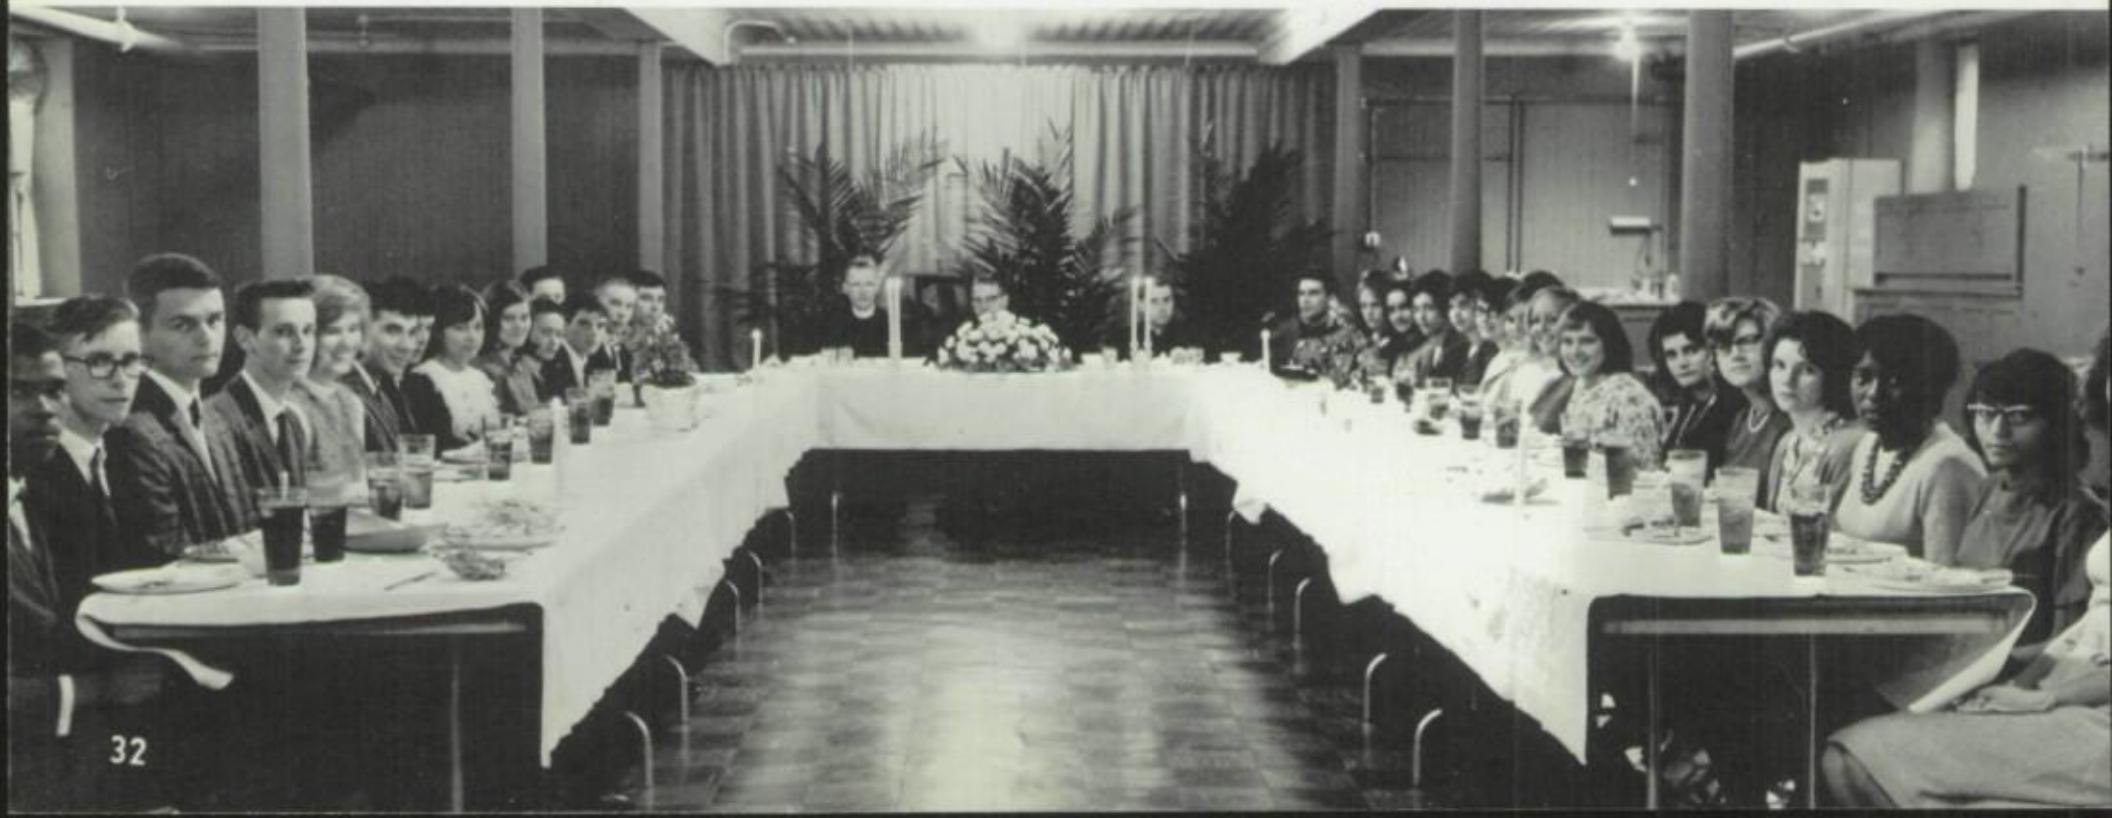

Seniors Enjoy Ring Day — Nov. 7

SENIORS BEGIN traditional turning of rings 66 times for good luck as Juniors help out.

Ring Day is so exciting because it is one of the first official acts of the Senior year.

OUR LUNCHEON, prepared by the mothers, was held in the church hall. Guests are Fr. Mc Kenty, Fr. O'Kane, Fr. Shreve, and Fr. O'Brien. Joyce Brown read the class history.

Jrs. Invite Srs. to Paris in the Springtime

Mr. and Mrs. Yates seem to agree that chaperones can enjoy a Prom night, too. Other parents who greeted us were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kray, Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeQuattro, Mr. and Mrs. George Lindenfelser, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle and Reverend Thomas Shreeve.

Sheraton Motor Inn

"The Michaelaires"

"Nothing is left but majestic memory."
Longfellow

Looking radiant, Judy Burneston, Frannie Kray, Lorraine Cowling, and Nancy Yates with their escorts testify how marvelous the night was.

The Nobles Played for "Mistletoe Magic"

"DID YOU see that hairdo?" Seniors gossiping during intermission.

HAPPY KING AND QUEEN: Maria De Quartro and Norbert Bliley

THE ROYAL COURT: REPRESENTATIVES S. Richter, B. Crow, P. Crow, P. Loflin, Queen Maria De Quartro, King Norbert Bliley, Princess E. Lapastrora, and Prince J. Wirtz.

"O COME LET US ADORE HIM" chant the seniors at the close of the annual Christmas pageant.

Peace on Earth — Good Will to Men

"FEAR NOT! FOR BEHOLD," . . . Nancy Yates reassures shepherds: David Pulliam, B. Crow, J. Harley.

THE THREE Wise Men approaching Bethlehem: Norbert Bliley, James Ryan, and Lawerence Capehart.

ON DECEMBER 19, 20, 21, the seniors performed the annual Christmas pageant. This year the performance was greatly enhanced by the work of Sister Agnes in writing the script and by Mr. Yates in painting the scenery. St. Joseph was played by Brent Stuldreher and Maria De Quattro was Mary.

Brother Goose

CURTAIN CALL after a successful performance. J. Theimer, J. Burneston, N. Yates, A. Hessa, L. Cowling, F. Kray, D. Pulliam, P. Casey, J. Brown, M. DeQuattro, S. Capehart

"MAH GRACIOUS, look at my skirt!" Alex Hessa (Wes) and Nancy Yates (Eve) try out the new motorcycle.

"KNOW WHERE these Wheat Puffies are? In my gas tank!" D. Pulliam (Jeff) watches as S. Capehart explains his problem to P. Casey, (Lenore).

AFTER MANY months of practice, "Brother Goose," a three-act comedy by William Davidson, was produced by the Seniors on February 11, 12, and 13.

"AND MY BUSINESS isn't going to be your business, anymore." P. Casey, (Lenore) and D. Pulliam (Jeff) listen as J. Burneston (Mrs. Trimmer) prepares to leave.

Runs 3 Nights

BROTHER GOOSE was a success only because of the hard work of our director, Mr. Ken Clark. F. Kray listens while he explains a difficult scene in the play. His friendship will long be remembered.

Thank you, Ken!

"MAYBE YOU should have kept the sewing machine." L. Cowling (Hy) and A. Hessa (Wes) give the new motorcycle the once over.

THE BEST architect we ever had is Mr. Edward Britton. George Gallagher helps as he adds another finishing touch to the scenery. Thanks, Mr. Britton!

"WHAT'S THIS, a race riot"? shouts J. Burneston (Mrs. Trimmer) as she is brought into the confusion of a football play. Just recovering from the play are D. Pulliam (Jeff), F. Kray (Peggy), P. Casey (Lenore), J. Brown (Carol), J. Burneston (Mrs. Trimmer), M. DeQuattro, (Sarah).

"Kathleen" — March 17, 1966

*"They're bewitched entirely,
The Prince (Norbert Bliley) and Gay Kathleen" (Sue Gallagher)*

"I'd be quite a fool, If I did not help myself a bit . . ." sings Tim O'Toole (Larry Capehart) as he tricks old Bridget (Ken McCarthy)

"Tip, tap - another knock And away we go . . ." agree Mary and Peter (Mary Mgt. Cooley and George Gallagher)

Sound of Music — Glee Club

STUDENTS from Grades 8-12 devote many hours to practice under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Osborne.

Ready to Serve Red Cross

READY, WILLING AND ABLE are words which rightfully suit the Red Cross. Such projects as working at the hospital, writing letters to servicemen in Viet Nam, and visiting the aged show their willingness to serve at all times.

OFFICERS: President, Kendra Mc Carthy, Vice-President, Judy Burneston, Secretary, Betty Pulliam, Treasurer, Pat Casey.

REV. MR. WILLIAM WOOTEN, charter member of the Saint Patrick Chapter of the National Honor Society, addresses inductees.
